Advocating for Patient Representation in Organ Allocation Decisions

Molly McCarthy, 3x Kidney Recipient
Director, Commercial Software Engineering, Microsoft
Bridging the clinic conversation to the long-term outcome.

EXTRACTING INSIGHTS FROM PATIENTS
Three Reasons to Involve Patients in Allocation Decisions

The medical community speaks transplant fluently.
The rest of the world does not.
Three Reasons to Involve Patients in Allocation Decisions

The medical community is expected to make decisions in the interest of their individual patients, which may conflict with longer term implications.
Three Reasons to Involve Patients in Allocation Decisions

It’s good for business.

Having patient advocates at the table signals transparency in decision making.
Thank You

Molly McCarthy

mollym@microsoft.com